BAILDON'S APERIENT FRUIT LOZENGES.

PREPARED from the bark of RHAMNUS FRANGULA, which has been described on high authority as "THE ONLY REAL APERIENT WE HAVE," as it cures, instead of increasing, the after-tendency to constipation. These are vastly superior to the French Lozenges and Pastilles so much in vogue during the last few years.

KEMP'S SUMMER EFFERVESCENT AND PURIFYING SALINE.

IN ANGLO-INDIAN NURSERIES is familiarly known as ATCHA FIZ-FIZ DAWA.

A CHILD ACCUSTOMED TO KEMP'S PREPARATION will absolutely refuse that of any other maker, however prominently advertised.

HIS DAWNING INTELLIGENCE perceives in the "Saline" a beneficent beverage, presenting medical treatment under a most cheerful aspect.

BEFORE PENETRATING TO THE NURSERY the virtues of Kemp's SALINE underwent a most searching experience of many years' duration in various climates.

ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS in Constipation, Sluggish Secretions, Gout, Boils, Sickness, Feverishness, and innumerable other adult symptoms conquered for it an established footing as a household medicine.

STEAM MACHINERY WAS ERECTED to keep pace with the demand, and the makers are now more than ever in a position to assert that it is not surpassed, if indeed it be equalled, by any other existing preparation.

THE EXCHANGE QUESTION is solved by Kemp's Effervescent, which is made in this country, and has not therefore to be remitted for at 1s. 7 7-16d. per rupee.

NO OCCULT SUPERIORITY attaches to the preparations of Eno, Lamplough, Hockin, Hibbert, or Wenham on account of their being manufactured in England.

DISTRUST THE PROFUSE ADVERTISEMENTS of imported nostrums, and test this fresher and cheaper preparation in your own households.

KEMP'S SUMMER EFFERVESCENT AND PURIFYING SALINE. Per bottle, Re. 1-4; per dozen, Rs. 12.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

TUESDAY EVENING, DEC. 7, 1880.

WITHDRAWALS to the extent of £425,000 are advised from the Bank of England, and although rates of discount in the open market remain unaltered, there are not wanting indications that money is appreciating in value. Consols, for instance, are ¼ lower at 99½, and French Rentes ¼ lower at 119. Enfaced Rupee Paper is quoted ¼ higher in Fours at 81½, and ⅜ higher in Fours-and-a-half at 89, the new sterling loan, which closes to-day and for which a very high average is expected, having, no doubt, exercised a favourable influence on the Silver loans.

Metals are all as previously quoted, with the exception of Wallaroo Copper, which is 10s. per ton lower. Coffee and Cocoanut-oil are unchanged. Linseed is 6d. per quarter lower for Bombay quality Wheat is reported flat with a decline of 6d. to 9s. per quarter, to arrive. The Manchester Piece-goods market is said to be firm, with a hardening tendency inspired by Cotton, but that buyers operate cautiously. This agrees with private advices, and is further confirmed by the small extent of arrival business doing in goods on this side.

Cotton in Liverpool yesterday, Reuter says, closed firm, the day's sales being estimated at 12,000 bales, of which 1,200 were Surats. Spot prices were unaltered, but futures were quoted 1-32d. higher. For Surats, to arrive, Reuter gives us the first quotation we have had from him since the opening of the new season. Good Omra, with the F. G. F. clause, December-January shipment, Canal, he calls 5¼d. per lb., equivalent to about ¼d. per lb. under to-day's prices here, and private messages call Surats, to arrive, practically unsaleable.

In New York ready Mid.-Uplands yesterday were unaltered at 12 cents, and March shipment at 12·46, which, as compared with Saturday's rate for February, shows no material change. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date give the following comparisons :—

	1880.	1879.	1878
Two days' receipts	64,000	45,000	58,000
Three days' do.	94,000	79,000	84,000
Total since 1st Sept.	2,622,000	2,429,000	2,026,000

Bar Silver in London has receded from 51¼d. to 51 13-16d. per oz.

EXCHANGE.—The market opened quiet, with an easier tendency, but as the first telegrams from Calcutta reported no decided movement, no change was made here, except for future delivery. Later messages from Calcutta, however, coming weaker, a decline of 1-32d. has since been established in buying rates all round, although some of the banks are still sellers of ready bills at yesterday's figures. The tone, notwithstanding, is the reverse of strong, and the general opinion appears to prevail that for a time at least we shall see slightly lower rates. We quote at the close :—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7⅞d	per rupee.
Do. telegraphic	1s. 7¾d.	,,
Do. 3 months' sight,	1s. 7 27-32d.	,,
Credits, 3 ,,	,, 1s. 7 31-32d.	,,
Documents, 3 ,,	,, 1s. 8d.	,,
Francs, 3 ,,	,, 2f. 10⅛c.	,,

On Calcutta we still quote demand drafts at 1-16 per cent. discount to par ; 60 days' sight nominal.

GOVERNMENT PAPER to-day has been quite excited to the advices from home. A large business has been done at rapidly advancing rates, and at the close we call the rise ⅝ to ¾ per cent. Fours are now Rs. 99⅜, to ½ and Fours-and-a-half Rs. 108⅝ to ½. Comparatively high as these figures are, a further advance seems by no means unlikely in the present temper of the market. Money continues very cheap, enabling operators to borrow on almost their own terms, and an impression, moreover, appears to prevail that the new sterling loan, for which the tenders in London close to-day, may possibly be the inauguration of a new departure in the way of bringing forward loans in future. However that may be, there is no gainsaying the strength of the market at the moment, and par for Fours seems to be quite generally expected.

SHARES.—The market has been quiet, with only a moderate business passing. Banks are unchanged, and there is no movement of importance to notice in anything but Spinning and Weaving Mill shares, in which, owing to the somewhat firmer appearance of Cotton, there has been a general decline of Rs. 5 to Rs. 15 per share.

COTTON this morning opened firm but inactive, both buyers and sellers showing little disposition to operate in the absence of the American telegram. In the afternoon, after its receipt, no very material change was observable, but on the whole the market may be called Re. 1 higher for distant delivery, although no stronger for ready Cotton. Private telegrams from New York are said to report the picking season still unfavourable, and that crop estimates are being reduced. This, however, does not affect the position very materially, as people at present are guided more by the actual figures of the receipts at the ports than general statements regarding the out-turn. We call prices to-day for New Cotton.

Good Hingunghaut, Ready	Rs. 216	per candy.
,, Do. Jany.	,, 218	,,
,, Omra ,,	,, 229	,,
,, Broach March	,, 241	,,

LINSEED continues unaltered in value at Rs. 6-12 to Rs. 6-13 for ready and Rs. 6-7 to Rs. 6-7½ per cwt. for May delivery, at which a considerable business has been done.

WHEAT is still in active request at previous prices.

FREIGHTS are not quotably altered. A moderate enquiry has prevailed to-day, but actual engagements have been moderate, nor have we heard of any fresh charters.

PIECE-GOODS are steady but no dearer. The off-take continues about the same as before, say 400 packages a day, and dealers show more disposition to dispose of their present holdings than to enter on further operations.

COALS are steady at previous prices, with no sellers to arrive.

A WEEKLY EDITION OF THE "ST. JAMES'S GAZETTE."
FORTY PAGES, PRICE SIXPENCE.

WHEN, immediately after Mr. Gladstone's return to office, an arrangement was made by which the PALL MALL GAZETTE was to give up all its old opinions and become, there or nowhere, the organ for the Editor, or for the Writers who had created and maintained its reputation, but to abandon the paper. This they did accordingly ; but only to come together again, within the space of four weeks, under the flag of the ST. JAMES'S GAZETTE. The new paper thus named leapt at once into a great success ; and now, in response to many inquiries from India, from America, and from British Colonists in various parts of the world, a Weekly Edition is printed under the title of MR. WHITLEY STOKES is at it again. There was room, in any case, to fear that the careful consideration we gave recently to his Small Cause Courts Bill would be thrown away on him. In the Statement of objects and reasons for the Easements Bill, to which we are about to ask attention, Mr. Stokes, we notice, says that he has received from the local Government a mass of criticism on his proposals, "some of which was searching and, therefore, welcome." We shall leave the local Governments to deal with this very left-handed compliment. In another sense than that intended we consider, however, "searching" a very happy epithet for all criticism intended for Mr. Stokes. The criticism that first finds Mr. Stokes will win a race and close a pursuit which began some time ago, and in which the advantage hitherto has lain decidedly with the codifier. In the matter of the Small Cause Courts Bill he has as yet successfully eluded the protests of the High Courts, the remonstrances of the inferior courts, and the objections of the general public. Our criticism was written more by way of discharging our consciences than with any hope of "finding" Mr. Stokes. But an indifference to our modest editorials, which we should have expected in any case, is rendered certain by the painful fact that Mr. Stokes is, as we say, at it again. The juggler who cannot keep three knives going in the air at the same time is not thought much of. He would be a codifier of a very ordinary description who could not "state clearly and compactly" the law on more than one subject at a time. And so while Bill No. 1 is still running the gauntlet of inquisitive criticism—with an immunity, however, which detracts a little from the merit of the performance—we have the pleasure of perusing in the last Government Gazette an altogether different chapter of Mr. Stokes's new Indian Civil Code. We refer to the Indian Easements Bill, 1880, with its Statement of objects and reasons.

It is the latter of these documents which we propose to make more particularly the subject of the following comments. There is more style about the Statement, and it is altogether a more entertaining production than the Bill to which it refers. Anyone could have written the draft of the Bill ; not the dullest critic could hesitate for a moment as to the authorship of the Statement. One remark, however, we have to make on the Bill. As it stands now, it is calculated to throw a terrible light on the kind of welcome Mr. Stokes gives to such criticism as does find him. We all know the story, which in one form or another is served up to us every Christmas, of the innkeeper and his wife who bid the traveller welcome, but have arranged that he shall sleep in a bed which in the dead of night descends with him into the bowels of the earth. Something like this must happen to the criticism of Mr. Stokes which is ill-considered enough to be too "searching." It is welcome ; but the upper world never sees it again. What he does with it, of course, we cannot say. But he does not put it in his Bills. In particular there is not a trace of the criticism which it is known was directed against Mr. Stokes's proposals in the matter of easements in the Bill now published in the Gazette. This is a circumstance in view of which the indication in the Statement that some of that criticism was searching strikes us as a little unfortunate. It is much as if the innkeeper were to brandish the ring of his last victim in the face of a relation come to enquire about him.

We must not longer shirk the task of explaining to our reader what an easement is. Let him not say that he does not know, and does not want to know. This part of Mr. Stokes's Indian Civil Code is intended expressly for towns ; and, when it has passed, it will be no bar to a suit taken out under it against the most peace-loving of our subscribers that he did not know there was such a thing as an easement. An easement, then, to borrow the language of the Statement, is a "right which a man may have over one piece of immoveable property by reason of his ownership of another." An example is better than a definition ; and one example will serve our purpose as well as another. We will take a case where a man whose field is next but one to a spring has the right of driving his cattle to water over the field that lies between him and the spring. This right is an easement, a term which is borrowed from the French, and which regards the privilege or obligation from the point of view of that of one of the two owners whom it benefits. In Scotch law, we believe, it is called a servitude, a term which would seem more appropriate, as referring to the restriction of the rights of ownership of the field

WE publish a supplement to-day, containing the list of passengers who arrived by the mail-steamer yesterday afternoon and a variety of English and other news.

AT the close of yesterday's proceedings of the Bombay Town Council Mr. Grant, the Municipal Commissioner, handed to the chairman a Government letter, dated yesterday. The letter informed the Municipal Commissioner that His Excellency the Governor in Council had, after careful consideration, decided that, as the Corporation had declined to contribute voluntarily Rs. 15,000 towards the maintenance of the lock-hospital in Bombay, the police grant for the current year should be reduced by that sum. Government whilst regretting the determination arrived at by the Corporation, said that they must adhere to their opinion that the Corporation should bear a portion of the cost of the working of the C. D. Act in Bombay. After some discussion at the Council, it was resolved, on the motion of the Hon'ble Rao Saheb, that the chairman be requested to oblige the Council at his convenience with a draft memorial to the Government of India, protesting against the reduction of the police grant under the circumstances under which it has been made, as communicated to the Municipal Commissioner in the Government letter referred to.

THE Hon'ble Mr. Justice F. D. Melvill, acting Judge of the High Court, in place of Mr. Justice Pinhey, proceeds about the middle of next month on furlough to Europe for a year. Mr. Justice Nanabhai Haridass, who has been acting for Mr. Justice Kemball, and would have retired from the Bench on the latter's return to Bombay, will be appointed to act in Mr. Justice F. D. Melvill's stead until the return of Mr. Justice Pinhey, in May next.

THE Anglo-Indian and the Bell-Edison Telephone Exchange Companies, which were working in opposition to each other, have been amalgamated, and will, in future, work together. Mr. Hill and Mr. Leggatt, the agents of the two companies, left for Calcutta last evening in the hope of getting a favourable answer from Government to their application for permission to lay down telephone wires.

THE Sessions Judge of Tanna, Judge Coghlan, will open the Colaba quarter sessions at Alibag on Tuesday next, the 14th instant.

COLONEL G. T. CHESNEY, R.E., took over charge of his duties as Secretary to the Government of India, in the Military Department, on the 1st December.

THE good-service pension vacant by the succession of Colonel C. S. Elliot to colonel's allowance has been conferred on Colonel Richard Hieram Sankey, C. B., Royal (late Madras) Engineers.

MAJORS M. J. MOORE and W. B. Charles, Royal List, Cavalry, have been permitted to retire from the service.

THE Raja of Jhind, it is stated, has promised a donation of Rs. 1,00,000 to the Golden Temple at Amritsar to be spent on repairing its golden gates. The Maharajah of Pattiala has also given Rs. 5,000 for the same purpose.

DURING the month of August last 2,299 emigrants left Calcutta for Trinidad (1,042), Demerara (1,022), and Mauritius (235). By far the largest number went from the North-West Provinces, from which district 1,339 were drawn, as compared to 414 from Behar and 401 from Oudh.

In answer to the aspersions the Pioneer has cast on the Bombay Army and the false statements it has disseminated as to the conduct of the native regiments at Maiwand, "Eye-witness" writes a letter to the Civil and Military Gazette. "I should," says "Eye-witness," "under ordinary circumstances have written to the Pioneer, as the paper in which the wrong impressions had appeared, but after observing the manner in which a letter, it would seem from Colonel Mainwaring, Jacob's Rifles, fared in its issue of 6th November (there are few, I fancy, that know him who would join in the imputation that he desired to throw blame on dead men), it seemed useless to send anything further. We make the following extract from "Eye-Witness's" letter:—Even the Pioneer has not dared to say a word against the bearing of the 66th; it has, to a certain extent, confessed that its first statement regarding the Grenadiers were in error; it has finally maintained that "the reputation of Jacob's Rifles is ruined." Fortunately, in the interests of truth and justice, the latter announcement lacks authority; the matter can be left, I hope, for the more favourable opinion without prejudice of those in authority and the general public. I am only too well aware, I am happy to say, that officers of the Bengal Army, far from joining in the outcry against the Bombay troops, have even in some instances expressed disgust at the late constant abuse poured on them, and the fairest and justest criticisms regarding the Maiwand disaster have all fallen from the lips of some who distinguished themselves at Ahmed Kheyl and other actions in the late war (competent judges, one would think, with their experience of what an attack of fanatics in swarms really is), and it seems their verdict, on the whole, tends more in favour of the Bombay troops than even Bombay officers are in the habit of deciding.

THE official report on the state of the season and agricultural prospects throughout India for the week ended the 30th November has the following "general remarks":—In Madras, Bombay, and Bengal the general prospects are good. In Madras there was a considerable rainfall, and standing crops are thriving. In the Bombay presidency there was rain in the Deccan and a slight fall in Sind. In Bengal, where there was no rain, harvest operations continue with, in some cases, more than an average yield. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, also, no rain fell during the week. Rabi sowings are being pushed on, and the prospects of the crop are now improved. In the Punjab agricultural prospects are not reported to be unfavourable, but rain is generally required for spring sowings. Slight rain again fell in most districts of the Central Provinces; the kharif outturn has been good on the whole, but jowari and cotton have been slightly injured in places by recent rain. In Burma reaping has commenced; the outturn will be affected by the deficient rainfall in the later months, but to what extent is not yet known. In Assam and in the other provinces, and in almost all Native States, prospects remain good; but in Mysore, Hyderabad, and Marwar the recent heavy rain has done some damage, whilst there have been complaints of drought from some parts of Northern Bundelkhund. Prospects throughout the Empire are, on the whole, good; and the grounds for anxiety, which was at one time felt in regard to parts of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, have for the present been removed.

THE return of accidents on Indian railways for the second quarter of 1880 shows a decrease in the total number of accidents to trains, rolling stock, permanent way, &c., from 1,065 in the corresponding quarter of last year to 984, or 7·6 per cent., although there was an increase in the open mileage of 6·5 per cent., and in the train mileage of 4·3 per cent. The casualties resulting from accidents to trains, &c., were among passengers 3 injured against 1 killed and 13 injured, and among servants 6 killed and 13 injured against 3 killed and 20 injured. The casualties among passengers were all due to a collision which took place between a down local and an up mixed train at Jhelum on the Punjab Northern State Railway on the 3rd June, 1880.

MAJOR HASTINGS, late Chief Political Officer with Sir Frederick Roberts, arrived in Calcutta on Friday morning. He has to make the final settlements with regard to the political expenditure of the campaign, and then intends proceeding to England on leave. Major Hastings' services have not as yet been rewarded, but the good work he did on the march from Ali Kheyl to Kabul, and in the after operations about Sherpur, as well as the position he occupied when Kandahar was relieved, the Pioneer remarks, are well known, and should certainly be quickly recognised. The able manner in which he dealt with the Afridi difficulty in the Khyber first marked him out for rapid promotion.

THE Happy Valley is in mourning for the death of the Queen of Kashmir. And telegram to the Allahabad paper, dated Jummoo, December 4th, states:—The remains of the late Queen Consort were conveyed from the palace this afternoon to the right bank of the river Tavie for cremation. The corpse was carried on a bier preceded by silken banners and military music, and followed by His Highness the Maharaja, the durbar officials, and a large multitude. Silver and gold coins were thrown on either side as the procession moved. The funeral pyre stood near the river's brink. Surrounded by attendants and priests, the body was placed on it, and after the usual ceremonies consigned to the flames. Special sowars on camels had been sent to recall the three princes who had proceeded to Lombagran for the celebration of Prince Ramsingh's wedding, but they had not arrived when the sad ceremony took place. The greatest sympathy is felt by all classes for His Highness's bereavement. The late Queen Consort was much beloved for her many virtues, and her loss is deeply deplored. The court has gone into mourning for a whole month; and the shopkeepers and others, to express their sorrow at the death of the good Queen, closed their shops since yesterday.

EVEN the Statesman, though cautious in forming an opinion, is disposed to approve of our present Viceroy. He remarks in a recent issue:—"It is much too soon to attempt an estimate of Lord Ripon's capacities as ruler of an empire. The work he has done since his arrival in India has been done in the closet, not seen of men, and his speeches, though not wanting in indications of sound, statesmanlike wisdom, throw more light on his character as a man than on his ability as a ruler. A good man is not necessarily a wise and able governor; but it is certainly desirable, and we think essential, that a governor should be a good man. Now it seems to us that the most remarkable feature of His Excellency's public utterances up to this time is the evidence of genuine goodness they contain. There is a well-known distinction commonly drawn between goodness and goodness. We have had much of the latter inflicted upon us of late years, but we have seen singularly little of the former. Lord Ripon's speeches are alive with good feeling, good sense, good humour, good intentions; they seem to be the natural utterances of a good man, a genuine English Christian gentleman."

THE following finds a place in the front page of the leading journal of that "remote provincial recess," Allahabad. Could provincialism any further go? "It was a sad trick which some esprits joyeux of the Central Provinces played off one night upon the Superintendent of the Central Jail. They made him so like in hue to one of his prisoners by means of oil and carbon laid upon his face, while he slept, that "when thus he met" the drowsy eyes of his half-awakened spouse she took him for a dark Dravidian, and raised a greater to-do than did Lawrence. There was a morceau quart d'heure for both of them before they came to understand, by the aid of two hurricane lanterns and a candle, what it all meant."

A CURIOUS illustration of the credulity of the people of this country and the facility and rapidity with which news is spread without the aid either of newspapers or of telegraphs occurred recently in Behar. In the month of Assur last the Hindus in several districts suddenly ceased ploughing on Sundays, and on being interrogated as to the reason of this change in their habits, replied that they were acting in accordance with an order issued by Jagannath Jhi in the interest of the divine cow. The mandate, they said, was disseminated by means of small pieces of paper, called patias, having the following words written on them in the Kaithi character:—"Jagannath Jhi ka hukum hai Itwar ke roz har na jote, aur nemak na khae." ("It is the order of Jagannath that on Sundays no one shall plough or eat salt.") These patias were passed from village to village with the utmost celerity, and were obeyed without question, though none could say whence they came or where they ultimately went. After a time, the connection between salt and beef not being very clear to the Hindu mind, a "shave" was suspected, and the wiser members of the village communities, neglecting the observance, returned to their ancient usage. In many places, however, the Pioneer says, the new custom is still practised in a more or less half-hearted way. The beldars, as is well-known, have from a long time past abstained from work on Sunday, and devote the day to rat-hunting and other pious pursuits.

THE bronze star for the Kabul-Kandahar march, Life states, will be after the pattern of the one issued for the Gwalior campaign of 1843, and granted for the victories of Punniar and Maharajpore, fought, as "every schoolboy knows," on the same day, the 29th December, 1843. The Gwalior star has five rays, and bears in its centre a silver medallion of the size of a shilling, with the name and date of either of the two victories on it.

A LONDON society paper writes:—"The electric light is slowly but surely winning its way, and the gas companies will have to look to it in earnest. In Austria-Hungary and Germany, as in Bombay, it is now used at all the large establishments and printing-offices. In St. Petersburg, Moscow, and Odessa over five hundred electric-lamps are in use. The Alexander Bridge in St. Petersburg and the Czar's yacht, the Livadia, are both illuminated by the new light. The Palais Royal jewellers, too, are going to light up their quadrangle with the Jablochkoff candle, perhaps with the hope of winning back some of the custom which has deserted them since the tide of fashion rolled westward."

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.—"With strumous and emaciated subjects, and where the general health is impaired," observes Sir Henry Marsh, Bart., M.D., Physician to the Queen in Ireland, "the results following and remaining effects of a regular daily course of this animal Oil are highly satisfactory. Its favourable action on the system is renovating; it checks progressive emaciation, restores the yielding health, rebuilds, as it were, the tottering frame, and brings about a most remarkable and salutary change in all the vital functions." Sold only in capsuled Imperial Half-pints, Pints, and Quarts, by all chemists, druggists, and storekeepers. Sole Consignees, Ansar, Harford and Co., 77, Strand, London.

THE VOLUNTEER FANCY-DRESS BALL.

THERE is no more popular form of amusement among English people than a fancy-dress ball, and for this popularity many reasons may be given. A liking for what may be termed "theatrical display" is almost universal, and it is often found quite refreshing to change one's identity, however faintly, for a time and appear in either a proud or humble character, as taste may dictate. The diversity of costume to be seen at a fancy-dress ball is not more striking than the incongruities which occasionally present themselves in relation to the representation of various characters. It often pleases a gentleman with an assured reputation for wisdom to attire himself in the parti-coloured costume and cap and bells of a fool, whilst not infrequently the lively humourist dons a sombre garb and puts on a look befitting a gloomy character. He who is short and round in person may like to adorn himself in the bravery of an Elizabethan gallant, laying to his soul the unction that he is a perfect double of the Sir Walter or Sir Amias of the old days; and it is these things that help to make up the pleasure and amusement of a fancy-dress ball. Then there are always a number of ladies and gentlemen who have selected their costume and the character they represent with admirable regard to their own particular style, and the greater the number of these the more successful the ball. Of course it is the ladies who attract and make attractive the fancy-dress ball, or, indeed, a ball of any kind. We all know how they lay under contribution the costumes of every country—that of the peasant girl as well as of the princess—and need we say that, as a rule, they look charming in all?

The Volunteer Fancy-dress Ball is now an established institution in Bombay, and is looked upon as one of the chief events of the year. Like its two predecessors, the ball last evening was a complete success, a fact not in the least surprising when we remember that it is always under excellent management, and that the secretaries and committee are gentlemen of reputed energy and considerable experience in such matters. The Town Hall was very tastefully decorated on the occasion to which we refer. The steps leading to the entrance hall were covered with crimson cloth, the rails being draped with British flags, that in the centre bearing the Star of India, with the motto "Heaven's Light our Guide." Below this and in the centre of the half-circle formed by the two flights of stairs was placed a large mirror, flanked by masses of beautiful evergreens and variegated plants. The two pillars at the top of the steps were draped with naval ensigns, so as to form an archway, and on each side were piled lances, with pennons. The rails surrounding the statue of Sir John Malcolm were covered by a Turkish flag. On entering the ballroom one of the first things that met the eye was the covering with which the great organ at the other end of the hall was draped. The material was quietly coloured and harmonised well with the surroundings. Against the lower part of this drapery were placed three large mirrors, and just beneath that in the centre glittered the handsome challenge shield presented to the B. R. V. by Major the Hon. L. H. Bayley. The centre of this end of the room was literally embowered in beautiful plants, some of variegated foliage and others with broad, cool green leaves, interspersed with bronze and purple-tinted specimens of tropical vegetation. Conspicuous amid the foliage was a shield bearing a lion rampant, and above this sprung a star composed of bayonets and ramrods. Some handsome couches were placed around these plants, and the appearance of this end of the ballroom was very attractive. Looking down the room, we observed that the pillars supporting the vaulted roof were ornamented with lances and flags, couches and chairs being placed between the pillars for the convenience of the dancers. The spaces between the windows on each side of the room were decorated either with mirrors or lances and stars composed of bayonets and ramrods, which glittered brightly in the bright light. The base of the statue opposite the organ was draped with the Union Jack, and the handsome colours of the Bombay Rifle Volunteers were here seen to great advantage, the silver band-staff of the regiment being placed between them. Above, on the face of the band-gallery, were crossed lances and a shield bearing the Royal arms, interflanked with stars of bayonets and ramrods. The corner of the ballroom to the left of the entrance was set apart as a refreshment-buffet, at which ladies might obtain tea, coffee, ice-creams, and other light refreshments. Supper was laid in the durbar room and the two rooms adjoining, and on this occasion Mr. Medley, steward of the Byculla Club, to whom the management of this part of the affair was confided, arranged that about two hundred might sup at the same time. There was also a refreshment-buffet in the balcony. The hall was splendidly illuminated, and the front, at the top of the wide steps, was formed into a promenade lighted by Chinese lanterns. The floor of the ballroom was covered with white stretched canvas, and this, in conjunction with the white walls and ceiling, had a not altogether pleasing effect; the brilliant hues of many of the costumes would have contrasted better had the floor been dark and polished. Many of the dancers, too, were clothed almost entirely in white, and were thus placed at a disadvantage in the matter of contrast. But notwithstanding this, the scene in the ballroom was a charming one. The shifting colour in the mazy dance, with the great variety of dress, formed a living, moving picture of considerable beauty. The attendance was not, perhaps, so large as that of last year, but the dresses worn were far more varied. Shortly after 10 o'clock His Excellency the Governor entered the ballroom, the band at the time playing "God Save the Queen." His Excellency led off the ball with Mrs. Ware, and gaiety was at once the order of the evening. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, His Excellency Admiral Gore-Jones, and the Honorable L. Ashburner were also present.

It would be vain to attempt to give any detailed description of the scene in the ballroom and of the characters represented. Here side by side might be seen a Vivandiere in a charming and coquettish costume and an "Evicted Tenant" in a green coat, a melancholy countenance, and sandy hair. Ladies attired in flowing Parsee robes, Italian flower-girls, Normandy peasants, fair Circassians, Spanish ladies, and dames with powdered hair, patches, and brocaded dresses mingled in delightful confusion, whilst cavaliers of the Stuart period and of the gay times of Louis the Fourteenth, Algerians, Afghans, Spaniards, Highlanders, and brigands mixed amicably together. Here was a Court Jester in motley and a lady in cap and bells which jingled as she danced; there were two or three very big Bluecoat boys and one or two grave Mussalmans. Two sisters appeared as archers in very pretty costumes of Lincoln green faced with yellow, and amid the gay throng paced a lady in the sober garb of a "Sister of Charity." Several ladies and gentlemen wore picturesque Turkish dresses, and these, like all the Eastern costumes, were very correct and extremely effective. The prevailing colour was, of course, scarlet, but the bright tints were relieved here and there by a rich dress of black velvet or the orthodox evening dress. The contrasts were frequently very striking and interesting—as, for instance, when an Amazon of the Hungarian Hussars stood by the side of a lady clothed in fleecy white, and representing a Snowdrop, and when Dolly Varden and a Parsee gentleman were in the same group. Several ladies looked charming in the costume of French and Italian peasants, and more than one gentleman also appeared in peasant costume. In almost every instance great taste was observed with reference to the dresses, and there was a marked absence of incongruity in the details. Altogether the ball was a very brilliant affair and a great success. We are unable, owing to the lateness of the hour, to give in this issue a complete account of the affair, and can only repeat that for gaiety and taste and variety in costume the Volunteer Fancy-dress Ball of 1880 has not been surpassed in Bombay.

The decorations were carried out under the superintendence of Captain Tennent and Lieutenant Stewart, to whom thanks are due for the care and trouble they have bestowed upon the work.

CAMPAIGN KEYLESS WATCHES.
FAVRE, LEUBA & CO.,
BOMBAY AND CALCUTTA.

In Open Crystal face cases...	...	...	Rs. 25 0 0
In Hunting cases	...	...	„ 30 0 0
In Half-Hunting cases	...	...	„ 35 0 0

Two years' guarantee. Sent post free to every Station in India.

MESSRS. FAVRE, LEUBA & Co beg to draw particular attention to the above watches, and confidently recommend them to every personwho wants to buy a watch: CHEAP, STRONG, and GOOD.
These watches are of moderate size, in an extremely well-made and tight-shutting German Silver case.
The movement is protected inside by a glass dome.
The movement has a Patent Lever Escapement, built on the soundest scientific principles.
The watches are keyless, and the hands are set also through the keyless mechanism, so that there is no necessity of opening the watch.
The watches have a second hand.
The figures of the dial and the hands are left extra bold, so that the time can be seen instantly on a glance at the dial, and in nearly complete darkness.
The watch, as a whole, combines strength with all the conditions necessary to good time-keeping.
This watch has proved a complete success as a CAMPAIGN WATCH, and its usefulness is recognised by the daily increasing demand from all quarters of our Army in the field.
To Shikaries, Sportsmen, &c., these watches will prove to stand any amount of rough usage and handling.
We guarantee riding will not effect the working of these watches.
We dare confidently say that these watches, if treated with ordinary care, and cleaned once every two years, will give a 15 years' good service.
Every watch is fitted in a wooden case, in which will be found a spare glass, and a spare mainspring.
We receive now regular shipments of these watches by each mail, and every order can for the future be executed by return post.
Only watches that have been examined and timed are despatched on orders.
2 years' guarantee. Packing and postage free.

FAVRE, LEUBA & CO.,
BOMBAY AND CALCUTTA.

N.B.—In order to protect our watches from inferior articles brought on the market under similar names, we engrave our name, or stamp our name, on all of them.
Illustrated Catalogues giving details of our enormous stock of pocket Watches, Clocks &c., sent free on application.
Our new Illustrated Catalogue for the coming season will appear shortly.

REDUCED RATES.
TUNING OF PIANOFORTES AND OTHER MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

WHEN contracted for by the term of six or twelve months, or when two or more Pianofortes are tuned.
TUNINGS.—This department is in charge of skilled European Tuners, who have been specially engaged from England.
Orders for tuning in the Fort or suburbs of Bombay receive prompt attention.
MOFUSSIL TUNINGS.—S. ROSE and Co. undertake the tuning and repairs of Pianofortes and other Musical Instruments in the Mofussil and Madras Presidency on special moderate terms.
REPAIRS.—We have extensive Godowns specially set apart for this department, and a staff of skilled workmen, under the superintendent and practical direction of qualified Europeans, and are able efficiently to effect the repairs of Pianofortes, Harmoniums, Violins, or any kind of Musical Instrument, at a moderate cost.
Estimates are furnished and approved before repairs are commenced.
S. ROSE and Co. beg to state that in connection with their Bombay and Calcutta firms they have been established in India, for a period of over twenty-five years, and their experience as to effect of the Indian climate on Musical Instruments justifies them in guaranteeing that repairs entrusted to their care, will have the best and most careful attention.
